Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a plasma processing apparatus and a plasma processing method, and, more particularly, to a plasma processing apparatus and a plasma processing method capable of plasma processing of wafers of various sizes with high throughput. 2. Description of the Background Art With the recent technological development, high integration, and the like, a plasma processing apparatus, which is used in the fabrication of semiconductor devices, has been required to be capable of processing wafers of various sizes to be processed. The plasma processing apparatus is arranged with a support table carrying wafers (hereinafter referred to as “wafers”) loaded thereon. With this plasma processing apparatus, a plasma is formed in the processing chamber, and wafers are subjected to etching or the like while being transferred. While progress is made in process miniaturization and heightening in wiring of semiconductor devices, etching with high aspect ratios is increasingly used in process steps. In this etching step with high aspect ratios, the dimensions of the wafers to be etched in the radial direction become small to some extent. Since the wafers to be etched are transferred together
