With a mandate from the Mississippi House of Representatives, Senate Bill 1020, sponsored by state Sen. Chris McDaniel and co-sponsored by a host of members of the local Republican party, passed the Senate. The bill, which is now in the state House, is designed to outlaw the display of “pornographic, sexually explicit or offensive materials,” including many “religious materials,” in funeral homes. How can you display “offensive materials” in a funeral home? How about displaying this picture from the National Prayer Breakfast in Washington D.C. on the day that Mike Huckabee spoke? This was a part of the breakfast sponsored by The American Legion. How about this picture from the National Prayer Breakfast in Washington D.
