Letters to the Editor Debate over S. 2040 needs to shift from the climate debate To the editor: In January, the Environmental League issued a statement of opposition to Senate Bill 2040 (SB2040) and Mayor Robert Pigott's cap and trade proposal for New Haven. Our statement focused on the flawed assumptions and flawed economic analysis underpinning the bill and the mayor's proposal. Despite widespread support in the city's business community, despite many leaders in the political establishment arguing for the bill and the mayor's plan, we do not believe the issue of the city's energy and climate change policy can be reduced to a trade-off between jobs and the environment. As the Mayor knows well, the issue is about making the right investments that
